

Reflections, Three Questions, A Sacred Reminder...and a Movie!

Reflections...

Precious! That is what each single Child is. On September 12th, 2009 at midnight we went to watch "I can do bad all by myself" an outstanding movie by Tyler Perry. Do You know who Tyler Perry is? If you don't, please gift yourself with learning about his story. What an amazing and inspiring Individual!

It was preview time and in a matter of minutes I had before me the most touching preview I have ever seen in my entire life. These absolutely beautiful eyes in the face of an abused Child! The sad story of her life! Wow! I was profoundly touched for life!

In one of your inner "pillow talk" moments, have you ever stopped everything in your mind and asked yourself what is it You really are meant to be doing that truly honors who you are at your core? In those moments our inner Light shines so brightly! And, more often than not, the answer comes to us, however powerfully or slightly revealed. I have had those moments throughout my entire life. And the answers were always so very clear to me! At moments they seemed so clear that I questioned if it was not supposed to be a bit more challenging...or not?!

Picture this scene: A teacher asks a group of Children their names, favorite colors, and what they are good at. Everyone but One Child answers. What is She good at? Her answer:"NOTHING."! Nothing!? Everyone is good at something, yes?! Not when a Young Child's Spirit has been killed all her life!!!

So yes, everyone IS good at something. There is, however, a need for someone to shed light on us when we are brought to life! The very first 10 years of a human being's life are crucial in the discovery of what is it we are good at AND this process starts with the BUILDING and NURTURING of our Spirits!

We all have shadows that have been "gifted" to us when Young. Some of these shadows however are so deeply dark and tend to overpower everything else good and powerful within us. Having someone who sheds Light to the Spirit of a Child who has been deeply hurt is a must in the lives of ALL Children who have been raised in the dark.

There was a moment, a very magical, special, revealing, Divine moment in the wee hours that September morning where the clarity of my life's purpose was so bright I felt it in my heart, I felt it deep at my core! I touched it as I believe having never touched it before!

It was truly One unbelievably powerful moment in time! . As if I was meant to be seating at that chair. Just the brief scenes on the screen and !! Divine providence! I was at the right place at the exact right time of my life to receive confirmation

It is interesting, ever since that day, there have been moments when I'm working on my writings for my books and programs and I have the need to reconnect with the dim Light on that Child's eyes. Yes, I could still see the Light in Her through her beautiful eyes. And I again and again watch the preview which is now on my favorites!

There are individuals who cannot go watch this movie as they can't bear such a sad and negative story. As always, I choose to respect their choice! Personally, I have been enormously moved by this story! It allowed me to reconnect with that empowering feeling of certainty, the certainty I now OWN that indeed THIS IS why I showed up here in the first place: TO SERVE the YOUNG ONES and Shed Light into their Spirit, to INSPIRE them, Breathe Spirit unto them! I have been brought to this life to HONOR, LOVE and UPLIFT the SPIRITS of YOUNG ONES! That Is It!!! And THIS I know for sure!

The Life Changing Questions?

- What shadows have been passed on to you that have been a factor to your belief system? Seat with this for a moment! Go within! Write them down, re-visit this and look at it as a way to open up and create the space for Light to be shed eliminating these shadows that do not serve You.
- What shadows are you gifting your Young Ones with? How is it that your shadows are influencing your Young Ones' Belief systems?
- Lastly, what is it that you showed up here for? What is the purpose of your life? Are you honoring it as you go through your life journey?

The Sacred Reminder?

EVERY Child is PRECIOUS! EVERYTHING You do either brings them LIGHT OR Kills their Spirit! What have you been doing? And more importantly, What WILL You be doing moving forward after this PRECIOUS moment in time?

The movie?
PRECIOUS!
